DHDS Italian Renaissance Workshop

How did they dance in the 1450s? The Dolmetsch Historical Dance Society offers a series of structured workshops providing a fresh perspective on the foundation of skills, steps and style prescribed by dancing masters of the time.

In this workshop, the second in the series, Hazel Dennison will teach balli and bassadanza from the Italian sources of Domenico and Ebreo. Studies will focus on steps, style and embellishment within each of the four misure. Dances will be placed in a wider cultural context. Beginners and improvers welcome, alongside more experienced dancers.

It is expected that music will be from a new CD produced by Mediva for DHDS.

The cost of the workshop is £20 per person for DHDS members and £22 for non-members. Bursaries may well be available; please apply to Hazel Dennison.

Programme

10:00 Registration and coffee/tea
10:30 Workshop commences
17:00 Workshop review
17:15 Finish

Breaks for tea, coffee and lunch will be made at appropriate points in the day. You may bring a packed lunch. There are several pubs and cafes in the area.

Getting there

The studios, ISTD2, are on Old Street and are about 15 minutes walk from Liverpool Street Station, a few minutes from Old Street Tube Station on the Northern Line (City Branch) and on a bus route to Waterloo Station. Other bus routes are nearby. There are some NCP car parks within a mile or so that are open on Saturday and Sunday and are not unreasonably priced.
